

Will Creek wins 2011 Semex Genetics Michigan State University Scholarship

Each year Semex Genetics, together with Angus Australia offers a young person the opportunity to travel to the United States and spend a semester studying at one of the world's leading beef-focused Universities.

Will Creek, SA, was announced as the 2011 winner of the Scholarship at the Sydney Royal Easter Show, and will join a list of recognisable beef-industry names who have taken up the Scholarship since it was first offered in 1983.

Will was chosen as the winner from 9 very strong applicants, the most applications the Scholarship has seen in recent years. All applicants were required to submit a cover letter and resume, attend an interview, and attend a Scholarship function, at which they were asked to give a presentation on the future prospects of the Australian beef industry.

Jim Conroy, General Manager of Semex Genetics Australia, said it does him good to be involved in youth programs such as the Scholarship, and witness the future of our industry in action.

Will's first Scholarship opportunity will be participating in the Semex Genetics Beef Breeders Tour later in the year, before spending the fall semester at MSU.

Thanks to Semex Genetics for their on-going commitment to the Scholarship.
